Talent Acquisition Team and hiring managers at Genius Sports Medellín,

It is with the greatest interest that I write this letter to apply for a full-time Live Feed Analyst position.

These six months at Genius as an Analyst have offered me the opportunity to grow personally and professionally. Learning from my mistakes, I have come a long way from where I started, and I'm now prepared to take on the next challenge within the company. My passion for sports can only be matched against my desire to grow.

I am aware how my responsibilities as a student have affected my process at Genius. However, I'm currently enjoying a very significant reduction in the hours required by my University, allowing me to focus on a full time-position at Genius.

Football, ultimate, basketball and other competitive sports are very significant parts of my life. I understand competition at its finest and what it means at every level from amateur to professional. Communication is key in this job, and my proficiencies in Spanish, English and Portuguese leave me in a unique position for covering tournaments with huge amounts of content in The Americas, Europe, and the world as a whole.

There is much more I can learn at Genius and with the help of its group of young and dedicated professionals, I know I will be an invaluable asset to the company

Thank you for your time and for considering my application for this position.

Best regards,
